FROM THE PRESIDENT

Being a member of ARF has been a wonderful way to keep in touch with many of the faculty and staff who generously shared their wisdom and knowledge with me during my 44 years at FSU. The senior faculty in other disciplines I first met at the Sweet Shop who taught me about teaching introductory courses, the supervision of graduate students, and of course tenure, the senior staff in accounting and in contracts and grants who mentored me in the sometimes perplexing rules of federal and state accounting and grant management, and the HR staff who taught me the ins and out of hiring and annual valuation procedures all helped make my time at FSU the wonderful adventure it has been. Now at ARF I have been able to continue those long relationships and to thank again those who helped me along the way. As President, you worry first about making sure the organization moves forward but what I have discovered is that those who helped me over the years continue to share their wisdom and knowledge by participating in ARF in the various ways our group needs. Since this is my last note as President I want to thank all who made my years as President-elect and President one of the highlights of my FSU career.

Kirby Kemper, President
2022-23
FSU Professor Emeritus

Membership News

As you know, ARF provides opportunities to continue valued relationships with the University, serves as a conduit for information about upcoming events and supports connections with former and current faculty and their activities. It is an extended family that is strengthened by the fabric of collegiality. Please join us if you're not already a member, and invite your retired friends to join us too, even if they have retired from other universities. New retirees have dues waived for the year of their retirement.

Our spring semester is full of social opportunities with good food and fellowship, and you can read all about them in the pages of this Journal. The Journal is also posted on our website. If you would like a hard copy of the Journal to share or have any questions about our organization, please contact me at bettyserow@yahoo.com.

I look forward to meeting you when we are socializing face to face.

RETIREE JOURNAL 6

FROM THE PRESIDENT-ELECT

How time flies! I think these sayings become “old adages,” because they are true. I find it hard to believe that my time as your President-elect is already drawing to a close. So far this year we have shared the Fall Luncheon and speaker Neil Charness from the FSU Institute on Aging; the Fall Tour of the spectacular new Olgesby Union; the Holiday Party held in the beautiful Heritage Room (thank you Kirby, for organizing this!); a wonderful trip to Sarasota for the Ringling Museum, the Dali Museum, and the Asolo Theatre; and, the Spring Barbecue, where the food is always good and the students who tell us about their work are simply outstanding.

And, we have one more special event this academic year—the Spring Luncheon on May 9, where our featured speaker will be Dr. Jim Clark, FSU Provost. Dr. Clark will talk about the opportunities and challenges facing FSU, about initiatives he is working on, and his plans for moving the university forward. Prior to becoming Provost, Dr. Clark was Dean of the College of Social Work. Upon making the appointment, President McCullough said of Jim Clark: “Jim Clark is an innovative thinker, noted scholar and researcher and effective administrator. His leadership experience, record of excellence and strategic vision make him the right choice to lead FSU’s academic enterprise. I’m looking forward to working closely with Jim to advance FSU’s strategic goals and continue our upward trajectory.”

You won’t want to miss Provost Clark’s talk. Be sure to make your reservations prior to May 3.

Following the May 9 Luncheon, the Board of Directors will meet for the “changing of the guard”—the annual exchange of materials and responsibilities. The newly elected President-elect will take my place and begin planning the programs for 2023-24. It has been an honor and a pleasure to serve ARF as President-elect; I am looking forward to assuming new responsibilities as your President for 2023-24.

Marilyn Young,
President-Elect
2022-23
FSU Professor Emerita
