New Business School Building

THE COLLEGE OF BUSINESS has been in search of a new home—a building that further elevates our dramatically rising stature and helps attract students and faculty. Legacy Hall presents a tremendous opportunity to create a multi-functional, collaborative and flexible environment for teaching, research and learning. Its design is respectful of FSU's Jacobian architecture while incorporating contemporary elements that reflect the state-of-the-art learning environment within.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear ARF Friends,

As we move through this lovely spring weather, we are reminded of the dynamics that affect our lives daily. Spring also heralds a changing of the guard in the FSU Association of Retired Faculty. My term as president will end in May. Soon we will have our Spring Luncheon (May 3rd) and just after that, on May 17th we will have a joint Board meeting with the new officers and those moving out of office. This yearly changing of the guard signals that we will always keep moving forward and never grow stagnant. The new officers will be announced at the Spring Luncheon. I am excited for them and for our Association!

I want to express gratitude to our President-Elect, Kirby Kemper. Kirby has gone above and beyond the call of duty this year. When I was unable to attend the Fall Luncheon, he stepped in and took over like the experienced professional he is. Thank you for your service, your extraordinary friendship and advice over the past year, Kirby. I also need to mention two of the most important "behind the scenes" workers we have on the board, Jill Adams and Jimmy Cole. Thank you both for your time, energy, bright spirits, and willingness to serve ARF. I wish to also say thank you to the past presidents of this board. I was so happy to have you within the reach of a phone call to give sound and sage advice. Thank you to Tom Hart for the work he has done to help give ARF more visibility online. If you have not visited our ARF website at <https://retiredfaculty.fsu.edu>, I encourage you to do so. It is a wonderful site with lots of history, information, and pictures. Lastly, thank you to all the members of the Board of Directors. You give both heart and soul to our Association. I am astounded by your willingness to share and the constant love for FSU that is demonstrated by all of you.

As I look back on the past year, I am happy to say that we had a full slate of successful in-person and online events. The fact that the Barbeque, and both the Fall and Spring Luncheons were in person makes me very happy. I wish to thank the membership for supporting these fun, delicious and lively events. For me, the opportunity to socialize with all of you is one of the most important reasons I became a member of ARF. I very much enjoy being with members of this organization.

My one disappointment is that, because of the dangers of the Omicron variant of the COVID-19 virus, we had to cancel our planned trip to the Ringling Museum and the Asolo Theater in January. I am happy to report that I am looking into trying another excursion to Sarasota in early December this year. Going in early December would present an opportunity to see a production of the Musical, CABARET at the Asolo Theater.

APRIL 2022

As you know, CABARET is one of the most important productions in the Musical Theater repertory. I will let you know, as plans progress.

As the years roll by, let us not forget to support our faculty and young scholars at Florida State University. We can always offer wit and wisdom, and perhaps a bit of financial support to those who need it as well. Please remember our ARF supported scholarships, The Southern Scholarship Foundation, and the Bernard Sliger Scholarship.

I hope you all remain healthy, young at heart, curious, and happy. Let us all continue to move forward with our typical esprit de corps as we welcome the new officers and the new year in the FSU Association of Retired Faculty. By the way...June 1st marks the beginning of our new fiscal year. After June 1st , please submit your 2022-2023 dues. I hope you all agree, it is a great bargain and a great buy!

We wish him the best in this new endeavor but are sure we can continue to count on his wonderful support. We will have a new slate of officers after the May 17 board meeting who will continue the tradition of having our organization continue to promote Florida State University and all of its excellent programs. I have benefitted enormously from the wisdom of Larry Gerber who will now move to Past President and hope to be able to bring his enthusiasm to the role of President.

From the President-Elect

It is Spring in Tallahassee and sneezing time for me. However, it means our Spring luncheon is close at hand since May is just around the corner. Our Association of Retired faculty continues to benefit from the support of the Office of Provost. We remain thankful for Sally McCrorie's support and look forward to working with our new Provost Jim Clark. One person in Westcott silently continues to make things work for our group is Jimmy Cole, who now is furthering his service to FSU by taking on the role of Director of University Communications.

Membership News

It was delightful to see so many of you who felt comfortable coming out for our holiday social in Dodd Hall. Several of you told me interesting stories inspired by the diverse exhibits and stained glass windows in this library-turned-museum. If you don't know Dodd Hall, it's well worth your time to check it out.

Our membership still stands at 97 households. If you know retired former FSU faculty members or Administrators, please encourage them to join ARF and to come to the Spring Luncheon.

I have appreciated queries from our membership about welcoming retired faculty from other universities and even from professional positions at FSU who have somehow fallen through the cracks. If you have any questions about who is eligible, please get in touch.

Feel free to contact me at any time (bettyserow@yahoo.com).

Association of Retirement Organizations in Higher Education

AROHE IS THE EXPERT ON RETIREMENT IN HIGHER EDUCATION

AROHE, founded in 2002, supports all phases of faculty/staff retirement through a dynamic member network that links retired faculty/staff associations, retiree and emeriti centers, and campus offices that engage retirees such as human resources, academic affairs, alumni, and advancement/development.

AROHE provides resources and connections to increase retirees' value to their colleges/universities, communities, and professions in the areas of philanthropy, advocacy on behalf of the institution, volunteerism, and institutional knowledge and commitment.

AROHE WILL HOST ITS 20th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION AS A ONE DAY SUMMIT, VIA ZOOM, SEPTEMBER 22ND. Please contact ARF President Elect Kemper or AROHE Committee Chair Fanchon Funk (ffunk@fsu.edu) for more information.

AROHE Idea Exchange Webinar: Transforming Retirement in Higher Education - A Global Perspective

Wednesday, May 25, 2022 9:00 AM, PDT
Via Zoom

While AROHE supports college/university-based retirement organizations in North America, other organizations around the world are also working to connect retired faculty and staff, to encourage institutions and communities to recognize the value of retired academics, and to facilitate the contributions retirees can make to their campuses and communities. Christine O'Kelly from Dublin City University in Ireland, who was a popular speaker at the 2021 AROHE virtual conference, will expand on her conference presentation to bring us up to date on the global Age Friendly University movement as well as efforts in Europe to create a worldwide network of organizations that are working in the field of active aging.

Speaker: Christine O'Kelly is coordinator of the Age-Friendly University Global Network led by Dublin City University in Ireland. Under her leadership, the network has expanded from three to 84 members globally. O'Kelly was the former CEO of Ireland's Older Women's Network and works closely with Ireland's National Positive Ageing Strategy Group and Age-Friendly Ireland. A member of the AGE Platform and the Covenant on Demographic Change in Europe, she is a passionate advocate for older adults.

The webinar is scheduled for 9-10:15 a.m. Pacific Time (10-11:15 a.m. Mountain, 11 a.m.-12:15 p.m. Central, Noon-1:15 p.m. Eastern). There is no charge to attend.

STUDENTS EXTRAORDINAIRE

For the past several years, ARF has invited undergraduate and graduate scholars to attend the annual Barbecue and share their academic journeys.

Grace Robbins, Undergrad Scholarship Winner, Archaeology, from Sarasota

Grace Robbins, from Sarasota, FL, is a senior studying classical archaeology and museum studies. She has excavated in both Tuscany, Italy at the Roman colony of Cosa and in the Apalachicola National Forest with the Southeast Archaeological Center. Through her archaeological fieldwork, museum internships, and work abroad in Italy, she has always aimed to further public engagement in museums and cultural heritage sites by gaining experiences in several fields of the cultural heritage sector. Next month, Grace will begin a five-month internship in Skagway, Alaska working as a museum intern at Klondike Goldrush National Historic Park.

Liam White is a PhD candidate at Florida State University in the Department of Scientific Computing and a Legacy Fellowship recipient. Born and raised in Kingston, Ontario, Canada, Liam immigrated to the United States in 2016 to pursue an education that would allow him to attain a career in the American aerospace industry.

He earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Science with a minor in Physics from Nova Southeastern University in 2019. In his final year of studies, he participated in an internship with Argonne National Laboratory (ANL) where he contributed to ANL's Hydrogen Refueling Station Analysis Model (HRSAM). After graduating, Liam obtained a post-graduate internship with Oak Ridge National Laboratory (ORNL) where he aided in the development of the next generation of large-scale 3D printing slicing software, namely ORNL Slicer 2.

In the Fall of 2020, Liam enrolled in the Computational Science PhD program at Florida State University and currently splits his time researching Computational Fire Dynamics with the Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Institute and Advanced Additive Manufacturing with ORNL.

He is an active member of the FSU Fellows Society and holds positions on both the Development and Forum planning committees. In his spare time, he enjoys camping, hiking, and canoeing.

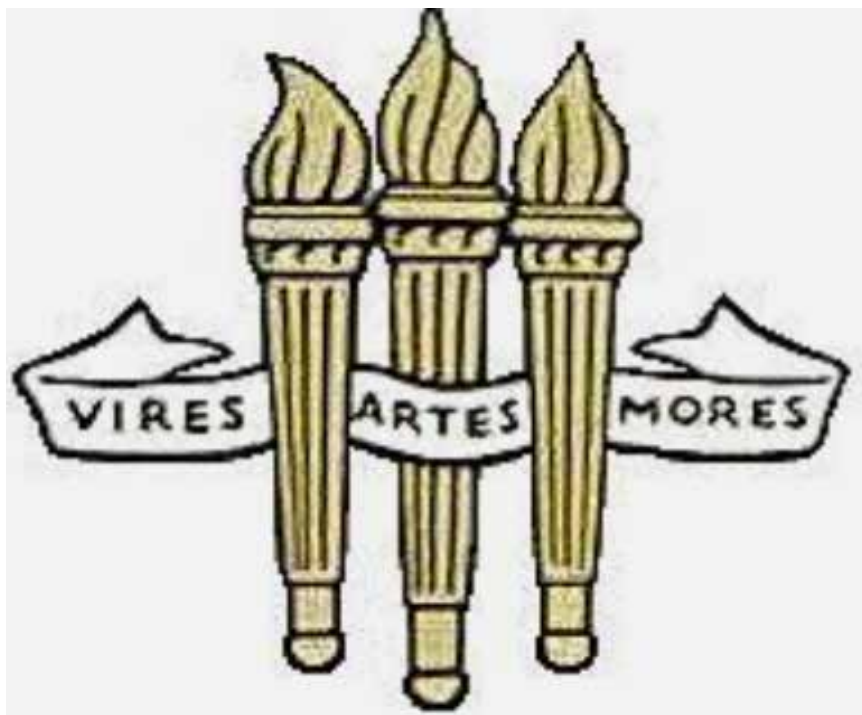

Caitlin Kelly, Asst. Dir., Program for Instructional Excellence and The Follows Society

Trystan is a senior psychology major from Jacksonville, FL who has been very involved in undergraduate research during her time at FSU. Using her Presidential Scholars enrichment funding, she spent one summer working as a research assistant in a human-computer interaction (HCI) lab in Gainesville. Trystan was awarded a Goldwater Scholarship for her undergraduate research, including her study of the social psychological effects of the COVID-19 pandemic. After graduation, Trystan plans to pursue a PhD in social psychology at Boston College.

Cassandra is a final year Ph.D. candidate in Theatre Studies. Her dissertation title is “A Woman’s Worth: Selling Sex and Virtue in Antebellum U.S. Melodrama.” The Fellows Society has been the location of so many happy memories at FSU, especially the research sharing luncheons, which now are able to have a virtual component. She loves organizations like the Fellows Society that bring together all sorts of disciplines and experiences.

ARF Membership Policy

Effective with the by-laws that were adopted two years ago, ARF's fiscal year is now defined as June 1-May 31. New memberships and membership renewals received anytime between these dates apply only to the current fiscal year. For example, if you paid membership dues anytime during our 2021-2022 fiscal year (June 1, 2021 through May 31, 2022) then your membership was valid until June 1, 2022.

Because our accounting system is not very sophisticated, based as it is on a simple Excel spreadsheet, it is not possible to accept new memberships or renewals for the next fiscal year in advance. In other words, you will not be able to join ARF for 2022-2023 or renew your membership for 2022-2023 prior to June 1, 2022.

This raises the issue of members who make multiple payments during the year. Because of the above policy on advance renewals, these overpayments cannot be applied to the following fiscal year. A number of years ago, the ARF Board addressed the question of overpayments and multiple payments during a fiscal year,

The Board adopted a policy against refunding overpayments or multiple payments of membership dues. This decision was made because of the accounting challenges involved given our simple accounting system and the mailing costs. Instead these overpayments and multiple payments are treated as donations to ARF. Keep in mind, however, that because we are not a 501(c) organization, these donations are not tax-deductible.
